Fargo, Aug. 10.—Opponents of the nonpartisan league administration have enough signers to their petition to effect a recall election of high officials of the state, but they will take no chances—they want more signers.

Governor Frazier, Attorney General Lempe and Commissioner Hagen will be ousted if the recall is successful.

GOVERNOR SMALL
ARRESTED; BOND
PLACED AT $50,000

PROTESTED ARREST TO THE LAST
—WAS TAKEN BEFORE COURT TO GIVE BOND

CHARGED WITH FRAUDULY THE
STATE OUT OF $2,000,000
INTEREST MONEY

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 10.—Governor Len Small of Illinois, after resisting arrest on indictments charging embezzlement and conspiracy, for three weeks on the plea of executive immunity or that "the king can do no wrong" as stated by his counsel, late yesterday finally submitted to Sheriff Mesier, after the latter had besieged the state capitol with deputies for several hours.

Though the governor protested his arrest until the last, charging persecution and asserting his innocence, the sheriff of Sangamon county was adamant and insisted on taking the governor from the executive mansion to the court house where Abraham Lincoln used to practice law, before accepting the bonds. There the governor gave surety for $50,000 and went his way to await trial on the charge of defrauding the people of the state of some $2,000,000 while state treasurer through alleged failure to turn over to the state the proper interest on state funds.

It was a dramatic day in the capitol of Illinois and the whole city was at white heat for hours as the climax of the long contest between the governor and county officers drew near. After the governor had refused yesterday to yield to service of the three warrants held by the sheriff, the latter had told him he would serve the papers yesterday or as soon thereafter as possible, either quietly or with any necessary effort.

Offered Change of Venue

LAWRENCE BENEDICT

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Governor Small today was offered a change of venue by States Attorney Fred Martimer.

The governor has frequently said he would not be given a fair trial in Sangamon county court, where warrants charging him with embezzling large sums of state money were returned.

Small Arraigned First Monday in September

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 10.—In a statement today Martimer outlined the plan whereby the governor could obtain a change of venue into any other county when the case came up for trial.

The governor was at liberty on $50,000 bond.

"The offer of change of venue is not made because I have the slightest notion that the governor could not be given a fair trial in Sangamon county," Martimer said, "but we are anxious to give him every consideration possible."

The governor will be arraigned on the first Monday in September before Judge Smith here along with two alleged conspirators indicted with him, Lieut. Governor Fred Sterling and Vernon Curtis, a banker of Kankakee, Illinois.

MRS. OBENCHAIN
TELLS HER STORY
KENNEDY MURDER

AS A RESULT THE PROSECUTOR
WILL ASK GRAND JURY TO INDICT BURCH

(By United Press)

Los Angeles, Calif., Aug. 10.—Madeleine Connor Obenchain today planned to win her own vindication in connection with the murder of her lover John Belton Kennedy by turning states evidence against Arthur Burch, according to indications.

On the eve of the grand jury action on the murder, Mrs. Obenchain made a "clean breast" of her knowledge of the midnight killing.

In a four hour conference with District Attorney Woolwine, the beautiful young divorcee is reported to have told everything of her relations with Kennedy and with Burch, son of the Evanston, Illinois, minister.

Although Woolwine refused to say just what Mrs. Obenchain told him of the killing he announced she had made some new revelations.

On the evidence given him by Mrs. Obenchain, and the disclosure obtained from the young minister's son, Woolwine prepared to go before the grand jury today and seek an indictment of Burch. He refused to tell whether he would ask an indictment for Mrs. Obenchain.

Kennedy feared death several days before he was murdered, relatives said today. The wealthy broker was uneasy for a week or more, J. B. Kennedy, his father, said. "I pressed him for the reason," said his father.

"He told me that he had met Mrs. Obenchain at the Alexandria hotel and she had fallen on her knees before him and urged him to marry her."

"Marry me, Belton, marry me. I can not live without you," he quoted her as saying.

"He told me this woman begged him for a gun which he carried, saying she wanted to kill herself."

"Belton you will marry me or I will kill myself, but I won't hurt you," he said she told him.

Officials believed Kennedy may have had some warning of danger. Letters which passed between Kennedy and Mrs. Obenchain showed a cooling of the broker's love for the beautiful divorcee, and will be presented to the grand jury.

Railroad Relief Plan is in Effect a Loan of Five
Hundred Million Dollars

Washington, Aug. 10.—The administration railroad relief bill plan amounts in effect to a loan of $500,000,000 to the roads by the government, Eugene Meyer, chairman of the war finance corporation, admitted today, under sharp questioning by members of the senate interstate commerce committee. Committee members by their questions drew from Mr. Meyer points on statements which summarized amount to this:

That the government has already loaned the railroads $500,000,000, for which securities have been taken, and now propose to provide $500,000,000 more by the sale of these same securities, that there will therefore be no net liquidation of railroad obligations.

A VETO

(By United Press)

Washington, Aug. 10.—The packer control bill, a subject of contention in congress for nearly a score of years, was finally passed by the house without a record vote and sent to the White House for executive action.

The measure gives the secretary of agriculture broad powers to regulate the meat packing industry. So far there has been no intimation of the president's stand on the bill. Some claim that it conflicts with his campaign pledge of "less government in business" and may be vetoed.

TAX PROGRAM
ADOPTED BY THE
ADMINISTRATION

PASS TAX BILL TO YIELD THREE
BILLION—SIX HUNDRED MIL-LION LESS THAN LAST
YEAR

CUT EXPENSES THAT MUCH BY
REPEALING LUXURY TAXES
AND EXCESS PROFITS

HERBERT WALKER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Aug. 10.—The difficult problem of reducing federal taxes in the face of huge future demands on the treasury appeared solved today. A tax bill to yield $3,075,000,000 or $600,000,000 a year less than the pre-war revenue act, was the aim of the house ways and means committee as the result of the prompt intervention of President Harding in the tax tangle.

The president in a two hour conference with house leaders last night proposed a program promptly accepted by house leaders. It was:

Reducing government expenditures by $250,000,000.

Obtaining several hundred million additional revenue through a concentrated drive to collect back taxes and sale of larger quantities of war material.

Repeal of the excess profit tax and reduction of high sur-taxes to a maximum of 32 per cent as of January 1, 1921.

Repeal of the luxury levy as of January 1, 1922.

Cut transportation taxes in half on January 1, 1922 and repeal them on January 1, 1923. Substitute only an increase in the flat corporation income tax from ten to twelve and one half or fifteen per cent.

Repeal All Tax on Freight and Passenger Rates

Washington, Aug. 10.—Complete repeal of the taxes on passenger and freight rates effective next January 1 was decided upon today by republican members of the house ways and means committee now framing the revenue revision bill. The act does not effect Pullman and express taxes. Decision was also reached to increase the flat corporation income tax to fifteen per cent instead of twelve and one half, as suggested by President Harding at a conference of house leaders yesterday. The committee today formally voted for the repeal of the excess profit levy and reduction of the sur-tax from a maximum of sixty-five to thirty-two per cent.

Both changes were made retroactive January 1 1921 in response to the wish of President Harding although the committee previously favored delaying this until January 1, 1922.

A movement is now under way in the committee to reduce the tax of five million people paying the normal income tax of four per cent. Representative Bacharach of New Jersey is insisting that $500 additional exemptions be granted these tax payers or that the returns be reduced from four to three per cent. The increased exemption may be granted, it was said.

MRS. OBENCHAIN

TELLS HER STORY
KENNEDY MURDER

AS A RESULT THE PROSECUTOR
WILL ASK GRAND JURY TO
INDICT BURCH

FATHER OF KENNEDY SAYS MRS.
OBENCHAIN BEGGED HIM TO MARRY HER

(By United Press)

Los Angeles, Calif., Aug. 10.—Made-lynne Connor Obenchain today planned to win her own vindication in connection with the murder of her lover John Belton Kennedy by turning states evidence against Arthur Burch, according to indications.

On the eve of the grand jury action on the murder, Mrs. Obenchain made a "clean breast" of her knowledge of the midnight killing.

In a four hour conference with District Attorney Woolwine, the beautiful young divorcee is reported to have told everything of her relations with Kennedy and with Burch, son of the Evanston, Illinois, minister.

Although Woolwine refused to say just what Mrs. Obenchain told him of the killing he announced she had made some new revelations.

On the evidence given him by Mrs. Obenchain, and the disclosure obtained from the young minister's son, Woolwine prepared to go before the grand jury today and seek an indictment of Burch. He refused to tell whether he would ask an indictment for Mrs. Obenchain.

Kennedy feared death several days before he was murdered, relatives said today. The wealthy broker was uneasy for a week or more, J. B. Kennedy, his father, said. "I pressed him for the reason," said his father.

"He told me that he had met Mrs. Obenchain at the Alexandria hotel and she had fallen on her knees before him and urged him to marry her."

"Marry me, Belton, marry me. I can not live without you," he quoted her as saying.

"He told me this woman begged him for a gun which he carried, saying she wanted to kill herself."

"Belton you will marry me or I will kill myself, but I won't hurt you," he said she told him.

Officials believed Kennedy may have had some warning of danger. Letters which passed between Kennedy and Mrs. Obenchain showed a cooling of the broker's love for the beautiful divorcee, and will be presented to the grand jury.

abled Soldiers Hospital

(By United Press)

St. Paul, Aug. 10.—Disabled soldiers in the Aberdeen hospital here were the chief interest to General John J. Pershing today.

He went among the patients quizzing them anxiously as to their treatment. He promised that the government would give disabled veterans every attention.

Pershing was guest at a luncheon at the Athletic club and inspected Fort Snelling. He was to address civilian troops training there late today.

Railroad Relief Plan is
in Effect a Loan of Five
Hundred Million Dollars

Washington, Aug. 10.—The administration railroad relief bill plan amounts in effect to a loan of $500,000,000 to the roads by the government, Eugene Meyer, chairman of the war finance corporation, admitted today, under sharp questioning by members of the senate interstate commerce committee. Committee members by their questions drew from Mr. Meyer points on statements which summarized amount to this:

That the government has already loaned the railroads $500,000,000, for which securities have been taken, and now propose to provide $500,000,000 more by the sale of these same securities, that there will therefore be no net liquidation of railroad obligations.

HOUSE FINALLY PASSED PACKER
CONTROL BILL

NOW GOES TO PRESIDENT FOR
SIGNATURE—SOME PREDICT
A VETO

(By United Press)

Washington, Aug. 10.—The packer control bill, a subject of contention in congress for nearly a score of years, was finally passed by the house without a record vote and sent to the White House for executive action.

The measure gives the secretary of agriculture broad powers to regulate the meat packing industry. So far there has been no intimation of the president's stand on the bill. Some claim that it conflicts with his campaign pledge of "less government in business" and may be vetoed.

DESTROYER TAKES PASSENGERS OFF OF STRANDED STEAMER

(By United Press)

San Diego, Calif., Aug. 10.—Thirty-eight passengers of the stranded liner San Jose capped the thrills of shipwreck last night when they boarded the destroyer Farquhar.

Meagre reports received here told of the difficulty of swinging the passengers and crew of thirty-six aboard the destroyer whose searchlight threw a glare over the sea and stranded San Jose. The rescued were said to have aided their rescuers by treating the adventure as a lark.

Surviving Passengers Camped on Beach

San Diego, Calif., Aug. 10.—The 33 passengers of the wrecked Pacific mail liner San Jose were still camping on the barren coast of lower California 350 miles south of San Diego today, according to wireless reports to naval headquarters here. These reports conflicted directly with earlier reports to the owners of the vessel and San Francisco chamber of commerce to the effect that the passengers were being brought to San Diego by the destroyer Farquhar and the U. S. S. Charles town, flagship of the destroyer fleet.

TAX PROGRAM

ADOPTED BY THE
ADMINISTRATION

PASS TAX BILL TO YIELD THREE
BILLION—SIX HUNDRED MIL-LION LESS THAN LAST YEAR

CUT EXPENSES THAT MUCH BY
REPEALING LUXURY TAXES
AND EXCESS PROFITS

HERBERT WALKER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Aug. 10.—The difficult problem of reducing federal taxes in the face of huge future demands on the treasury appeared solved today. A tax bill to yield $3,075,000,000, or $600,000,000 a year less than the pre war revenue act, was the aim of the house ways and means committee as the result of the prompt intervention of President Harding in the tax tangle.

The president in a two hour conference with house leaders last night proposed a program promptly accepted by house leaders. It was:

Reducing government expenditures by $250,000,000.

Obtaining several hundred million additional revenue through a concentrated drive to collect back taxes and sale of larger quantities of war material.

Repeal of the excess profit tax and reduction of high sur-taxes to a maximum of 32 per cent as of January 1, 1921.

Repeal of the luxury levy as of January 1, 1922.

Cut transportation taxes in half on January 1, 1922 and repeal them on January 1, 1923. Substitute only an increase in the flat corporation income tax from ten to twelve and one half or fifteen per cent.

Repeal All Tax on Freight and Passenger Rates

Washington, Aug. 10.—Complete repeal of the taxes on passenger and freight rates effective next January 1 was decided upon today by republican members of the house ways and means committee now framing the revenue revision bill. The act does not effect Pullman and express taxes. Decision was also reached to increase the flat corporation income tax to fifteen per cent instead of twelve and one half, as suggested by President Harding at a conference of house leaders yesterday.

The committee today formally voted for the repeal of the excess profit levy and reduction of the sur-tax from a maximum of sixty-five to thirty-two per cent.

Both changes were made retroactive January 1 1921 in response to the wish of President Harding although the committee previously favored delaying this until January 1, 1922.

A movement is now under way in the committee to reduce the tax of five million people paying the normal income tax of four per cent. Representative Bacharach of New Jersey is insisting that $500 additional exemptions be granted these tax payers or that the returns be reduced from four to three per cent. The increased exemption may be granted, it was said.

They were weak and disordered. I was often awakened during the night

walk around with my hands on my hips trying to ease the pain. I had large circles and puffy sacs under my eyes and felt unfit for anything in the way of work. I tried a good many remedies for relief but nothing did me any good until I got Doan's Kid-

first few brought relief and when I had finished the third box I was as

Mrs. H. Shields, 1207 Norwood St.,
Brainerd, says: "About three years ago I was troubled with my kidneys.
They were weak and disordered. I was often awakened during the night and would have to get out of bed and walk around with my hands on my hips trying to ease the pain. I had large circles and puffy sacs under my eyes and felt unfit for anything in the way of work. I tried a good many remedies for relief but nothing did
me any good until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Johnson's Pharmacy. The first few brought relief and when I had finished the third box I was as well as ever and have never been children requires approximately 12,000 calories a day. The diet is best balanced by considering 120 units of 100

Fred T. Lincoln and Family of Billings, Montana, Camped in Bear Tooth Mountains

In a letter to R. R. Gould, Fred T. Lincoln, former secretary of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce, and now secretary-manager of the Billings, Montana, Commercial club, writes as follows:

My Dear Gould—It was refreshing, yes most gratifying to find your good letter among my mail on our return from a week spent in the Bear Tooth mountains, way up, up some 8,700 feet above sea level, with wonderful forests of pine and great monster domes of ragged rock rising as if to greet the sky all about us, brooks and rivers of purest water tumbling over each other like little wanton boys, out of school and on their mad way to seek other companions in the valleys below.

We had a wonderful time of it: camped in a forester's log cabin three miles farther up than any car had ever made and I established a record in this respect, altho it was compassed with "dangers and valiant effort" on my part. My Ford (my pet car and within the pocket book) lived up to its reputation as being the universal car; we made it over a wagon road seemingly impassable in many places because of huge boulders in the way and along dizzy precipices, narrow trails and uncertain roads. Took the family, also "Bud" the dog who became acquainted with a porcupine the first night in camp and as a consequence was busy much of his time for two days picking "pins" from his (dog) person. Came home brown as berries, all of us, fat and as hard as tanks. I have put on some flesh out here, am in fine physical condition and take it all in all pretty well sold to the west, tho at times long, very much, for the dear old pals back "home" for we still refer to Brainerd as our home town and with the same loyalty which, I believe, was a characteristic of the writer while a resident there.

I did considerable fishing; that is to say, I tried my best to entice the wary trout to sample my imitation fly and with some success. To be frank with you, Gould, I put in more time untangling my line from the tops of trees and brush, from vines and net-work of underbrush than I did fishing the stream but I did get a few and let me say that a small mountain trout will make a devil of a fuss on the end of a line, much more than a regular and generous sized bass or lake pike I find. I must admit that after I had pulled in my first catch and saw the size of the "prize" I felt like quoting from the ancient fable, "The mountain in labor brought forth a Mouse". It looked so insignificant to me, after all this fuss and in comparison to the fish I have landed back home in lake Hubert or some of the other fine lakes Minnesota is justly proud of.

We are having heavy tourist traffic this year, our park being liberally patronized and an average of 50 cars a day for over two months is the record. Count an average of 4 persons to the car and use the figures accepted by those who have made a study of the value of tourist trade at $6.00 per head on an average and you can readily determine the value of this park to the city let alone its value from a publicity standpoint. I trust that you are making the most of the advantages Brainerd offers as a Mecca for tourists and that you have encouraged them in remaining over there, thus helping the business interests of the town as well as affording the tourists themselves an opportunity to enjoy the "best little city in Minnesota".

We had hoped, wife and I, to make the trip back home this year by car but my work here would only permit of a week's absence from the desk and it would require that time to run back to Brainerd. Another year, if all goes well, we will plan to make it. I can assure you and Brainerd will be our objective you may bet on that.

I read with much interest the Dispatch and note that the Chamber is active and the boys seem to be getting results. You seem to be having a number of conventions and to have encouraged a better community spirit there which is most important. I am always watching the papers to see what Brainerd is doing and very often wish I might drop in and say hello, at least, to the old friends.

Mrs. Lincoln and the kids are well, like it here and the people have been very nice to us. We have had the pleasure of entertaining at times a number of "home folks" since we came west, among them, Atty. Fred Swanson, Andrew Gibson, Mrs. Geo. Grewox, Miss Anne Mahlum (since married) Mr. and Mrs. Hathaway of Hubert enroute to Red Lodge where their son, "Bill" is the secretary of the chamber of commerce and several others. We are always mighty glad to see a "face from home" and guess the old sentiment will never wear off—I hope not for Gould, do you know that real friends are the great thing in life and that as the years come and go, we learn to appreciate them all the more? I find it so in my own case.

Well, I have rambled on and am rapidly running into an editorial vein so will close with the very best wishes to you and yours, to Mr. and Mrs. Wise and any of the other friends who may be interested in "the Lincolns"—now "way out west". Say hello to the newspaper fellows for me, Sheets, Hoffbauer, "the Colonel" and Fred Wieland. Write me again.

Sincerely yours,

Certain species of birds which inhabit eastern Africa possess the largest and strongest beaks known to ornithologists. One of these is the open-bill or shell-bird. It is a long-legged, stork-like bird, which has a beak like a nut-cracker. The parts of the bill cannot be closed in the middle. It eats frogs and fishes, but its favorite food is fresh water molluscs, the shells of which it can crush with the powerful beak.

Carfare and Interest.

The story goes that Johns Hopkins, the founder of the university that bears his name, was accustomed even when of venerable years and more or less infirm of body to walk to his office. Questioned by a friend as to why he did this, he replied: "I never forget that a carfare represents an entire year's interest on a dollar. The interest on a dollar is worth saving."

The Art of Industry

A PROMINENT editorial writer says that the records of Caruso's wonderful voice will be enjoyed for a thousand years, and that this is close to immortality.

This wonderful heritage for posterity is made possible by the art of industry.

But the art of industry has accomplished other things as well.

Sixty years ago men found oil in quantities, from which they produced light.

The Standard Oil Company took that oil and, in addition to light, produced from it, power, and lubricants for the parts which transmit the power—not to mention hundreds of other useful products.

Fifty years ago people were delighted with the oil which gave them abundant light; but none could foresee the development which this "Rock Oil" would make possible.

It was the vision and courage of the men who founded the Standard Oil Company that made it possible for the automotive industry to come into being.

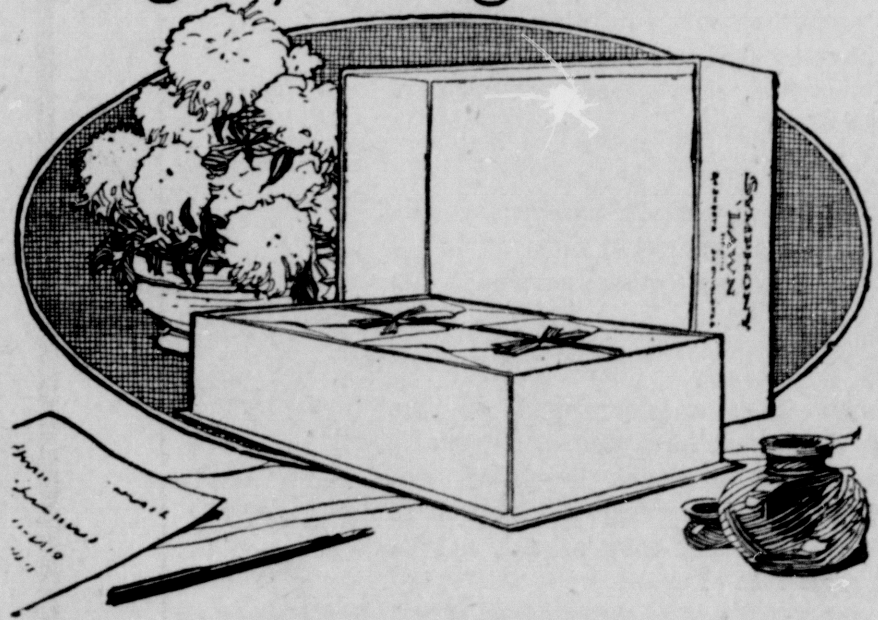

It is the ability of the men who manage the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) of today that has made it possible for the automobile to develop from the clumsy vehicle of twenty years ago to the smoothly-driven machine of today.

For the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) constantly anticipated demand and produced gasoline of such quality, and in such quantity, and distributed it in a manner so thorough, that the automotive manufacturer could produce in large enough quantities to keep his product within the range of the modest purse.

The art of industry is exemplified in the achievements of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), which will live for centuries and benefit posterity in a practical way, as the perpetuation of Caruso's voice will benefit in an aesthetic way.

Every part is made according to its use—that is, every Genuine Ford part is.

But there are also counterfeit "Ford" parts. These imitations are made by concerns in no way connected with the Ford Motor Company and retailed as side-lines by mail-order houses, down-town stores, and many garages. Another year, if all goes well, we will plan to make it. I can assure you and Brainerd will be our objective you may bet on that.

I read with much interest the Dispatch and note that the Chamber is active and the boys seem to be getting results. You seem to be having a number of conventions and to have encouraged a better community spirit there which is most important. I am always watching the papers to see what Brainerd is doing and very often wish I might drop in and say hello, at least, to the old friends.

Mrs. Lincoln and the kids are well, like it here and the people have been very nice to us. We have had the pleasure of entertaining at times a number of "home folks" since we came west, among them, Atty. Fred Swanson, Andrew Gibson, Mrs. Geo. Grewe, Miss Anne Mahlum (since married) Mr. and Mrs. Hathaway of Hubert enroute to Red Lodge where their son, "Bill" is the secretary of the chamber of commerce and several others. We are always mighty glad to see a "face from home" and guess the old sentiment will never wear off—I hope not for Gould, do you know that real friends are the great thing in life and that as the years come and go, we learn to appreciate them all the more? I find it so in my own case.

Well, I have rambled on and am rapidly running into an editorial vein so will close with the very best wishes to you and yours, to Mr. and Mrs. Wise and any of the other friends who may be interested in "the Lincolns"—now "way out west". Say hello to the newspaper fellows for me, Sheets, Hoffbauer, "the Colonel" and Fred Wieland. Write me again.

Sincerely yours,

The Art of Industry

A PROMINENT editorial writer says that the records of Caruso's wonderful voice will be enjoyed for a thousand years, and that this is close to immortality.

This wonderful heritage for posterity is made possible by the art of industry.

But the art of industry has accomplished other things as well.

Sixty years ago men found oil in quantities, from which they produced light.

The Standard Oil Company took that oil and, in addition to light, produced from it, power, and lubricants for the parts which transmit the power—not to mention hundreds of other useful products.

Fifty years ago people were delighted with the oil which gave them abundant light; but none could foresee the development which this "Rock Oil" would make possible.

It was the vision and courage of the men who founded the Standard Oil Company that made it possible for the automotive industry to come into being.

It is the ability of the men who manage the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) of today that has made it possible for the automobile to develop from the clumsy vehicle of twenty years ago to the smoothly-driven machine of today.

For the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) constantly anticipated demand and produced gasoline of such quality, and in such quantity, and distributed it in a manner so thorough, that the automotive manufacturer could produce in large enough quantities to keep his product within the range of the modest purse.

The art of industry is exemplified in the achievements of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana), which will live for centuries and benefit posterity in a practical way, as the perpetuation of Caruso's voice will benefit in an aesthetic way.

Shell-Cracking Bird.
Certain species of birds which inhabit eastern Africa possess the largest and strongest beaks known to ornithologists. One of these is the open-bill or shell-bill. It is a long-legged, stork-like bird, which has a beak like a nut-cracker. The parts of the bill cannot be closed in the middle. It eats frogs and fishes, but its favorite food is fresh water mollusks, the shells of which it can crush with the powerful beak.

Carfare and Interest.
The story goes that Johns Hopkins, the founder of the university that bears his name, was accustomed even when of venerable years and more or less infirm of body to walk to his office. Questioned by a friend as to why he did this, he replied: "I never forget that a carfare represents an entire year's interest on a dollar. The interest on a dollar is worth saving."

THE UNIVERSAL CAR
Sixteen Years Experience

For sixteen years, a corps of metallurgists have been studying and constantly perfecting the steel that goes into every part of the Ford car and the Ford one ton truck. Each separate part has been studied to learn the type of steel best fitted for it. Parts receiving constant surface-wear are made of hard, flint-like metal; parts subjected to great vibration or resilience are made of softer, springy steel. Every part is made according to its use—that is, every Genuine Ford part is.

But there are also counterfeit "Ford" parts. These imitations are made by concerns in no way connected with the Ford Motor Company and retailed as side-lines by mail-order houses, down-town stores, and many garages. The unsuspecting customer accepts them because they are called "Ford" parts. To make sure of getting the genuine Ford-made parts, buy them only from Authorized Ford Dealers. Likewise bring or take your Ford car to our garage for repairs, replacements, and general "tuning up."

We are Authorized Ford Dealers. We can supply you with all Ford parts for either passenger car or truck. And our shop is equipped to give real Ford service in all repair work.

SAVING OF $100,000,000

Charles G. Dawes, Director of the Budget has issued an order stopping the sale by any department or bureau of any government surplus property, pending the organization of a system whereby the disposition of such property may be controlled. This order affects all classes of property, except perishable goods, owned by the government and in the hands of any department, bureau or depot.

At the same time this order was issued; orders were given for all government purchasing agents, supply officers and others in charge of government property, to make an inventory of material on hand and report the same to the Budget Bureau. And also at this time an order was issued for all departments needing supplies to file their requisitions with the Budget Bureau. The immediate result of this will be the saving of millions of dollars a year—it is estimated as high as $100,000,000 the first year.

PROTECTIVE TARIFF NECESSARY

In many other countries the standard of living is much lower than in America, and the cost of production of goods correspondingly lower. For this reason a protective tariff here is not only justified but necessitated. If there be no protective import tax, the foreigner can market his goods here, thus depriving the American producer of the work and wages incident to production. Every dollar sent abroad for foreign goods is a dollar less in circulation here and a dollar more for the upbuilding of the industries of our commercial rivals. It is merely a question of imposing an import tax that will encourage buying at home.

The Minneapolis Journal has published a comparison of present prices with the prices of a year ago, giving clear proof that the cost of living has come down. The biggest drop is on Aug. 6, 1920, 10 pounds of sugar shown by sugar. One store advertised for $2.34. Last Friday, the same store advertised 10 pounds of the same kind of sugar for 69 cents.

Frank Day, in the Fairmont Sentinel, is boosting Congressman Sydney Anderson as a "best guess for the United States senate to succeed Frank B. Kellogg." When the proper time comes the people are going to have something to say about Senator Kellogg's successor, and the people are very well satisfied, indeed, with our able and brilliant junior senator.

It is against sound public economy to allow poverty alone to cause the separation of a child from the care of a good mother. This is the principle back of the mothers' pension system, the administration of which is discussed in a report entitled "The Administration of the Aid-to-Mothers Law in Illinois," recently issued by the U. S. Department of Labor through the Children's bureau.

Francis I. Jones, director general of the U. S. Employment service, while in Minneapolis this week, declared in an interview that industrial conditions, after a period of depression have passed the crisis, and predicted that unemployment from now on will decrease. Mr. Jones is in the Northwest to make a first hand inspection of the harvest labor situation.

"The Republican administration is now engaged in three lines of effort for the promotion of the welfare of American labor," says the Republican Publicity Association through its president, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr. "It is restricting immigration, framing an import tariff on cheap foreign goods, and building up our export trade."

The Department of Labor claims that retail prices of food increased in nine of the principal cities during the period from June 15 to July 15. The increase is given as from 3 to 7 per cent.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Lyceum
"Sincerity spells success!" is an alliterative motto that took Lottie Young, the talented motion picture ingenue of blond hair and winsome manner, well up the ladder of recognition, in an amazingly short time.

Miss Young proves the power of her motto by her work in "The Dwelling: Place of Light," Benjamin B. Hampton's photoplay of the Winston Churchill novel, in which she has the role of "Lise Bumpus," the heroine's sister.

All unknowing that they had hit upon the motto she had adopted, three critics in praising the work of Miss Young in the production use that word, "sincere."

Showing at the Lyceum Tonight and Tomorrow.

At the New Park Tonight
Maurice Tourneur's latest offering "Deep Waters," is a photoplay replete with scenic beauty, true characterizations, and more than ordinary interest with its rugged folks of the New England coast, played against a background of marine beauty.

"Deep Waters" comes to the New Park theatre today and the picture is said to be the most absorbing that has been shown here for some weeks. This tale is not only unique, but it is so true to life that it never fails to interest. The action commences at a fashionable dinner in a big city; sweeps the beholder up to the New England coast, then back again. Returning to the seashore, it takes one in breathless bounds out over the waves to a rocky point where a lighthouse is being erected. The deep-sea divers, the cranes with their loads of rock, and the many scenes of activity, make it a doubly interesting screen offering.

A Charming Picture

A decidedly charming picture is "The Jailbird" starring Douglas MacLean, which will be shown at the New Park theatre Friday and Saturday. It offers Mr. MacLean one of the finest roles of his screen career. The scenes of the story are laid in a small town and in a penitentiary where the hero does time for violations of the law. But if all crooks were as agreeable as Mr. MacLean is in this role, state prisons would be acceptable as residences for certain periods. Doris May plays opposite the star.

CHIROPRACTORS HAVE A MEETING

Dr. Grace Williams of Brainerd, President of 5th District, Presided at Gathering

HELD AT CHAMBER COMMERCE

35 Licensed Chiropractors Present—Matters of Interest to Profession Discussed

Chiropractors of the Fifth District Association of Minnesota held a meeting in the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce rooms on Sunday, August 7, about thirty-five licensed chiropractors being present. The meeting was called to order at 10:30 o'clock by the President, Dr. Grace Williams. The general routine of business was conducted and the various committees gave their reports. The matter of taking the annual state convention away from the cities and having it throughout the state from year to year was discussed and St. Cloud was given the support of this District No. Four.

Dr. Olson of Omaha, Nebraska then gave a short talk on Nebraska and what they were doing there.

Dr. Raymond who is a student of the Palmer School and is now at home in Deerwood where he is spending his vacation, gave a talk on the progress of the Palmer School during his two years work there, the plans laid for the future, and what will be when he finishes next July. Dr. Raymond's talk was very interesting as the chiropractors are glad to hear direct from their "Alma Mater". The meeting was then adjourned to Luncheon where a bounteous picnic dinner awaited them.

At 3 o'clock the meeting was called to order. Dr. Putman of Crosby gave an excellent paper on "Visions and Ideals." Dr. Putman went at length into the subject of "Chiropractic as Our Ideal," not as a livelihood alone, but for the sake of suffering humanity, with the strong visions of a sturdier, happier, healthier and long lived race. Dr. Putman stated in his eloquent manner, very impressively the wonderful opportunity chiropractors have to accomplish good.

Dr. Roy Williams of Brainerd then gave an impressive paper on "Ways and Manner of Advertising." Dr. Williams' paper held the audience close attention while he discussed various methods of advertising. He brought out the point very vividly that "We have something for the common welfare of mankind. We must let them know it! Then deliver the goods. Using every method of advertising to reach the greatest amount of people in the least amount of time, in our own particular vicinity."

Dr. Curtis of Hibbing then talked on conditions on the North Iron Range and sent in an appeal for more chiropractors in that section of the state. Dr. Curtis' talk was fiery and to the point.

Rev. Arthur C. Smith of the First Baptist church, who had been asked to give an address, talked on the moral and religious side of life's active times. After dealing with a few pleasantries, he launched into the subject prepared, "A Call to the Highest" stating that there is a call to the highest in every sphere of the world's life, whether it be business, politics, education or profession. There is a call to the highest in thought, a call to the highest in motive and a call to the highest in achievement. And upon this latter point Rev. Smith dwelt at length; whatever in profession tends to up-build the physical and the moral it behooves everyone of us to lay ourselves out to acquire the very most and the best, in order that we may become world benefactors. Also he sighted interests wherein our civilization is indebted to the past for its science, philosophy, and religion. All the best in these things have been handed down to us and call out the very best that is in us. Last of all, there is a call to the highest in favor with God and man. This should be the motive and climax of all life's efforts. It was an address interspersed with striking illustrations, and inspired all those who heard it to endeavor to reach the highest possible development for humanity's good.

It was then decided to hold a joint meeting with District No. 4 and 5 the first Sunday in December at St. Cloud. A motion was then made by Dr. O. G. Whitenberg of Alexandria, that a rising vote of thanks be given the Chamber of Commerce, the Park Board, and Drs. Roy and Grace Williams for their hospitality shown all present.

In spite of inclement weather on Tuesday night, the Home Town Carnival drew good crowds. All the riding devices were well patronized and the various shows of the Little Giant company and the home talent were well patronized.

An incident of the evening was the heavy rain and a gust of wind which tipped over the tent of the Philippines. In spite of the drenching the performers and their instruments received, they were game, repaired to another tent and put on a good show. Today the tented city is expected to be increased by further shows and people who saw the first night will be surprised to see the addition gained.

The best of order is maintained. The Papermakers dance is well patronized, music being furnished by Tibbett's four piece orchestra. The Brainerd Municipal band played at the carnival on Tuesday evening and will play again tonight.

Senn-Niles

A very beautiful wedding took place Monday evening at 8 o'clock, August 8th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Senn of 710 North 9th street when their daughter Gladys Viola was given in marriage to Mr. Alton E. Niles. The ceremony took place in the presence of about 40 friends and relatives. The house was very beautifully decorated with ferns and asparagus, with bouquets of gladiolas and sweet peas containing a large bell of ferns and carnations. The bridesmaids were Miss Gladys Northrup of Winona and Miss Ellen Heyer of La Crosse, Wisconsin. The groom was supported by Emil Lunde of Brainerd and Leon Niles, brother of the groom.

The bride wore an illusion veil with georgette white accordin pleated dress, a wreath of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of yellow roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Ellen Heyer wore an organdie dress of yellow organdie and carried yellow roses. Miss Helen Olson of Winona sang "Oh Promise Me" and Rev. Arthur Cartwright of Pine River sang "Somewhere." Miss Olson played the Lohengrin wedding march. After the ceremony Miss Jenny Keller rendered several selections on the violin and the Misses Green, the two little nieces of Mrs. Senn sang a duet.

Among the guests from a distance were Mrs. Ellen and Adelia Heyer and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grinstead of LaCrosse, Wisconsin, Miss Helen Olson and Miss Gladys Northrup of Winona.

There were many beautiful and useful presents to start the young people in their life journey. A very bounteous wedding dinner was served.

The beautiful ring service of the Methodist Episcopal church was read by the Rev. E. A. Cooke, who pronounced the words that made them man and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Niles will live at the same home at 710 No. 9th street and will take their wedding trip a little later in the season. They are both splendid young people and receive the congratulations and good wishes of all who know them.

O'CONNOR PREDICTS DEFEAT OF LEAGUE

Grand Forks, North Dakota, Was a Guest in City of Butler Brothers at Ransford

PROMINENT IN N. D. POLITICS

J. F. T. O'Connor Was Fusion Nominee for Governor, Giving Frazier a Close Run

Independents will win the recall election in North Dakota next November by 25,000 majority, it was predicted by J. F. T. O'Connor of Grand Forks, fusion nominee for governor, defeated last year by a close margin by Frazier.

Mr. O'Connor was a guest of Ernest and Harry Butler at the Ransford and was on his way to the Twin Cities where he will deliver an address before the convention of the Commercial Law League of America.

"I reason the prediction out in this way," said Mr. O'Connor. "Last fall on every clean state issue before the people, separated from party politics, the Independents won by about 10,000 votes. While Harding carried the state by 130,000, Governor Frazier, whose name was right under his in the Republican column, won by only 4,500 votes.

"Since that time the trend of events has been damaging to the league. They have lost the second largest daily and several of their weekly papers. Investigations have weakened them. There is no work on the state mill and elevator. The league officials have scrapped their Home Building association and have just sold their lumber stock at Grand Forks at an $8,000 loss. The Drake mill has been shut down. The league administration has been unable to raise money by selling state bonds, simply because they did not pass laws safeguarding those bonds so investors would take them.

"In the coming election the candidates will be on the ballot without party designation. The issue will be clean cut, and I think there is no doubt about the election of R. A. Nottos as governor, with his two associates on the ticket, by 25,000 majority or more."

CHIROPRACTORS HAVE A MEETING

Dr. Grace Williams of Brainerd, President of 5th District, Presided at Gathering

HELD AT CHAMBER COMMERCE

35 Licensed Chiropractors Present—Matters of Interest to Profession Discussed

Chiropractors of the Fifth District Association of Minnesota held a meeting in the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce rooms on Sunday, August 7, about thirty-five licensed chiropractors being present. The meeting was called to order at 10:30 o'clock by the President, Dr. Grace Williams. The general routine of business was conducted and the various committees gave their reports. The matter of taking the annual state convention away from the cities and having it throughout the state from year to year was discussed and St. Cloud was given the support of this District No. Four.

Dr. Olson of Omaha, Nebraska then gave a short talk on Nebraska and what they were doing there.

Dr. Raymond who is a student of the Palmer School and is now at home in Deerwood where he is spending his vacation, gave a talk on the progress of the Palmer School during his two years work there, the plans laid for the future, and what will be when he finishes next July. Dr. Raymond's talk was very interesting as the chiropractors are glad to hear direct from their "Alma Mater". The meeting was then adjourned to Luncheon where a bounteous picnic dinner awaited them.

At 3 o'clock the meeting was called to order. Dr. Putman of Crosby gave an excellent paper on "Visions and Ideals." Dr. Putman went at length into the subject of "Chiropractic as Our Ideal," not as a livelihood alone, but for the sake of suffering humanity, with the strong visions of a sturdier, happier, healthier and long lived race. Dr. Putman stated in his eloquent manner, very impressively the wonderful opportunity chiropractors have to accomplish good.

Dr. Roy Williams of Brainerd then gave an impressive paper on "Ways and Manner of Advertising." Dr. Williams' paper held the audience close attention while he discussed various methods of advertising. He brought out the point very vividly that "We have something for the common welfare of mankind. We must let them know it! Then deliver the goods. Using every method of advertising to reach the greatest amount of people in the least amount of time, in our own particular vicinity."

REDUCED TAXES ARE NOT LIKELY

SHIFTING OF SOME BURDENS IS EXPECTED, BUT GOVERNMENT MUST HAVE REVENUE.

EXPENSES GROW EACH YEAR

Fordney Hopes to Cut Half a Billion From Tax Bill of 1922, But His Fellow Committee-men Are Less Optimistic.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—How much is the tax bill of the American citizen to be cut by the revenue measure which before the frost comes will have a place upon the statute books of the United States?

It is a mighty hard thing to tell. It may not be cut at all, and it may be increased, but perhaps the country generally speaking will feel that it has been relieved a bit by the shifting of burdens of taxation from one place to another, and by the new means of raising the necessary money.

If, for instance, they should take the tax off something which all men, women and children buy nearly every day of their lives, the people probably would feel that they had been relieved of some expense, forgetting perhaps the tax would go somewhere else and that in the long run it might have its effect upon them.

The plain truth about taxation is that the government needs a huge amount of money to pay the interest on its bonds and to pay its running expenses. There is only one way to raise this money, and that is by taxation, except of course through tariff, and some persons maintain that the tariff is a tax. It follows, therefore, that unless the expenses of government are cut, taxation cannot be cut. It is not Uncle Sam's fault that bills fall due and it is a credit, of course, to his honesty that he wants to pay them.

Little Reduction in Sight.

There was a strong belief that taxation this year might be cut materially. It is the solid truth today, however, to say that few men in congress seemingly believe that any great amount of the burden can be lifted. The chairman of the house committee on ways and means, Mr. Fordney, says that the attempt will be to cut half a billion dollars from the tax bill of next year. His fellow members of the committee are very much less optimistic. They say that they do not want to make any promises because if disappointment shall come the promises will return to plague them.

All the members of congress, members of the minority party as well as of the majority, seem to be in sympathy with the proposal to repeal the transportation taxes, those which hit freight as they hit the passenger by land and sea. When a man travels today he not only pays a good deal more for his straight ticket than he did a few years ago, but he has to pay a tax in addition, and as Americans like to travel, this form of taxation has been felt keenly.

It has been said that the taxes collected each year from the passengers and the freight shippers amount to considerably more than one-third of a billion dollars. Of course if this tax is lifted the third of a billion dollars must be raised in some other way and as yet no specific plan for doing it has developed. It seems likely today that only a part of the transportation tax will be lifted.

The government is going to save some money this year through economy in the administration of the departments. Through the efforts of the budget commission, and of the congressional committee plus a non-congressman who is its chairman, and which is charged with the work of reorganizing the departments, the chances seem to be that several hundred millions of dollars will be saved.

Expenses Increase Yearly.

The trouble is, however, that the government is growing all the time and that its ordinary expenses increase from year to year. Therefore it seems that if the saving will offset the legitimate increase arising from the growth of the government, it will do about all that it can be expected to do. Of course it is a saving nevertheless.

The army will not cost as much as it did last year, nor will the navy cost quite as much, but the sea service will come pretty near to equaling its last year's expenditures. Congress as a whole, Democrats and Republicans together, agreed that the navy should be maintained at close to its last year's efficiency, while congress as a whole seemed perfectly willing that the army should be cut so materially that today army officers fear the service actually will be crippled badly. Still here there is a saving, but there are appropriations for new objects of government which probably will eat it up.

The treasury estimate of the cost of government for next year, running its affairs and paying interest, will be about four billions of dollars. If Chairman Fordney's hope that half a billion can be cut from the estimates is realized, of course the taxpayers will feel considerable difference, but until the revenue bill actually has been passed no absolutely definite pronouncement can be made as to increase or decrease.

The Power of music.

Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes, formerly controller of the currency, best known as "Hell an' Maria" and now director of the fiscal system of the federal government, is a musician as well as a financial magician who proposes to make Uncle Sam's high cost of doing business dwindle and shrink to the vanishing point.

While commissioner of supplies at General Pershing's headquarters in France, General Dawes needed eight hundred horses and needed them in a hurry. His formal application was promptly turned down by the British commander. Dawes was not to be thwarted, and trailed this particular officer, Gen. William E. Budkin, to his hotel and thence to a cafe to make a personal appeal.

While they were waiting for service a good orchestra played. It brought Dawes' jangling nerves into tune. He had a parley with the orchestra leader and soon was playing an instrument.

General Budkin and his party so enjoyed this music that they kept Dawes playing most all night and in the morning he got his eight hundred horses—he had fiddled them out of the British commander.

Barthelme Meets a Sport.

Dick Barthelme says he has met many sports in his day, but none equal a country friend he met while on locations.

"He pestered the life out of me to introduce him to a girl in the picture. I finally did so. He took her out three times and stopped short. "What's the matter? I asked him. "Don't you like her any more? "Well, I thought I liked her, but she tried to work me," he answered. "The first time I was out with her she told me she liked salted almonds, so I got her some. The next night, when we were taking a walk, she had to have some more. The third night, when we were sitting on the hotel porch, she wanted some more salted almonds."

"That's where I quit," Dick quotes his rural friend as saying. "That darn girl owes me 30 cents now and she hasn't made a move to pay it back."—New York Tribune.

Advice to Idiots.

Bishop Hughes was talking about agnosticism at a luncheon in Portland. "An agnostic asked me once," he said, "if I didn't come across a good many things in the Bible I couldn't understand."

"Of course I do," said I. "Well," said the agnostic, "what do you do about it?"

"My dear friend," I answered, "I do just as I would while eating a nice bit of planked shad. When I come to a bone I calmly lay it on one side and go on enjoying the delicious meat, letting any idiot who insists on choking himself on the bones do so."

Carving Placed on Mount Eanon in Honor of Dr. Stone

(By United Press)

Banff, Aug. 10.—A carving on the top of Mount Eanon today, honors the first man who scaled the peak, Dr. W. E. Stone, late president of the Purdue university.

It was just as he was stepping to the topmost projection of Mount Eanon that Stone fell to his death, Rudolph Ammer, Swiss guide, explained today. The party that brought Dr. Stone's body out of the abyss where he fell, scaled the precipitous peak to erect the carving in honor of their friend.

Harland Stone dean of law and a brother of the dead explorer, accompanied by his nephew David Stone, was due at Eau Claire camp today where guides have taken the body. Mrs. Stone, now completely recovered from the suffering and exposure while marooned eight days on a mountain ledge, will join them there.

The body will probably be buried at the base of Mount Eanon.

Washington, Aug. 10.—Spurred by the efforts of a powerful lobby to place a dye embargo in the permanent tariff bill, Senator King of Utah today announced he would demand that the senate adopt his resolution calling for an investigation.

King was in a fighting mood. He showed letters and telegrams from business organizations in Utah urging a dye embargo. This he declared, was a backfire of the dye lobby to whip him into line.

Plan to Get Gold From Sand.

It has been known for many years that Adirondack sand contains gold deposits that will run from five to seven dollars per ton. No practical process was known by which the gold could be obtained at a profit, although several attempts have been made in various sections of the mountains.

Now, however, it is reported that a process has been perfected which will insure a profit, and that two large mills will soon be erected in the northern Adirondacks. Each will be equipped to handle ten tons of sand per hour. It is rumored the capital is to be furnished by a group of Canadian and United States bankers.

REDUCED TAXES ARE NOT LIKELY

SHIFTING OF SOME BURDENS IS EXPECTED, BUT GOVERNMENT MUST HAVE REVENUE.

EXPENSES GROW EACH YEAR

Fordney Hopes to Cut Half a Billion From Tax Bill of 1922, But His Fellow Committee Men Are Less Optimistic.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—How much is the tax bill of the American citizen to be cut by the revenue measure which before the frost comes will have a place upon the statute books of the United States?

It is a mighty hard thing to tell. It may not be cut at all, and it may be increased, but perhaps the country generally speaking will feel that it has been relieved a bit by the shifting of burdens of taxation from one place to another, and by the new means of raising the necessary money.

If, for instance, they should take the tax off something which all men, women and children buy nearly every day of their lives, the people probably would feel that they had been relieved of some expense, forgetting perhaps the tax would go somewhere else and that in the long run it might have its effect upon them.

The plain truth about taxation is that the government needs a huge amount of money to pay the interest on its bonds and to pay its running expenses. There is only one way to raise this money, and that is by taxation, except of course through tariff, and some persons maintain that the tariff is a tax. It follows, therefore, that unless the expenses of government are cut, taxation cannot be cut. It is not Uncle Sam's fault that bills fall due and it is a credit, of course, to his honesty that he wants to pay them.

Little Reduction in Sight.

There was a strong belief that taxation this year might be cut materially. It is the solid truth today, however, to say that few men in congress seemingly believe that any great amount of the burden can be lifted. The chairman of the house committee on ways and means, Mr. Fordney, says that the attempt will be to cut half a billion dollars from the tax bill of next year. His fellow members of the committee are very much less optimistic. They say that they do not want to make any promises because if disappointment shall come the promises will return to plague them.

All the members of congress, members of the minority party as well as of the majority, seem to be in sympathy with the proposal to repeal the transportation taxes, those which hit freight as they hit the passenger by land and sea. When a man travels today he not only pays a good deal more for his straight ticket than he did a few years ago, but he has to pay a tax in addition, and as Americans like to travel, this form of taxation has been felt keenly.

It has been said that the taxes collected each year from the passengers and the freight shippers amount to considerably more than one-third of a billion dollars. Of course if this tax is lifted the third of a billion dollars must be raised in some other way and as yet no specific plan for doing it has developed. It seems likely today that only a part of the transportation tax will be lifted.

The government is going to save some money this year through economy in the administration of the departments. Through the efforts of the budget commission, and of the congressional committee plus a non-congressman who is its chairman, and which is charged with the work of reorganizing the departments, the chances seem to be that several hundred millions of dollars will be saved.

Expenses Increase Yearly.

The trouble is, however, that the government is growing all the time and that its ordinary expenses increase from year to year. Therefore it seems that if the saving will offset the legitimate increase arising from the growth of the government, it will do about all that it can be expected to do. Of course it is a saving nevertheless.

The army will not cost as much as it did last year, nor will the navy cost quite as much, but the sea service will come pretty near to equaling its last year's expenditures. Congress as a whole, Democrats and Republicans together, agreed that the navy should be maintained at close to its last year's efficiency, while congress as a whole seemed perfectly willing that the army should be cut so materially that today army officers fear the service actually will be crippled badly. Still here there is a saving, but there are appropriations for new objects of government which probably will eat it up.

The treasury estimate of the cost of government for next year, running its affairs and paying interest, will be about four billions of dollars. If Chairman Fordney's hope that half a billion can be cut from the estimates is realized, of course the taxpayers will feel considerable difference, but until the revenue bill actually has been passed no absolutely definite pronouncement can be made as to increase or decrease.
